VACANT & ABANDONED BUILDING & PROPERTY

The City of Stockton has an ordinance to protect neighborhoods from becoming blighted through the lack of adequate maintenance and security of vacant buildings and properties, S.M.C. section 15.32

Vacant and abandoned properties, and the costs associated with monitoring and upkeep, are the responsibility of property owners and must not become a nuisance and liability to the surrounding community.

Vacant properties and buildings:

- Attract transients and criminal activity and become a danger to children,
- Increase risk of fire for the building and adjacent properties,
- Become a dumping ground for junk and debris and overgrown with weeds and vegetation,
- Attract vandals, encourage graffiti, and disrupt neighborhood stability,
- Retard appreciation of property values and discourage economic development, and
- Deny neighboring property owners and residents the full use and enjoyment of their property.

Property owners subject to this ordinance are required to:

- Comply with all laws and codes, including zoning, historic preservation, housing and building codes.
- Actively monitor and maintain the exterior appearance of the property and inspect vacant or abandoned property at least on a monthly basis.
- Post the property with a sign containing the telephone number(s) to reach a local owner or property manager. (See below)

This property managed by (name of property owner or manager).

To report problems, please call (telephone number (s) where property owner or manager can be reached;

24-hours a day/7 days a week.

- Sign must be 4 by 6 inches, posted on the interior of a window facing the street to the front of the property.
- Contact telephone numbers must be for both business and non-business hours, 24 hours per day/7 days a week.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What can a Code Enforcement Officer inspect at a vacant property?

- Anything that is open and unsecured and does not violate the owner's expectation of privacy.

How can I find out if there are violations at a vacant property?

- Call neighborhood Services at 209/937-8813, email payoffdemand@stocktongov.com, or send a request into the City through "ASK STOCKTON" on the City web site.

How can a property representative get a list of the violations?

- Owners or their agents can call the Hot-Line, 209/937-8813, that Neighborhood Services has established for Realtors and request the information.
- Non-owners must submit a Request for Public Information to Neighborhood Services and may be required to pay a small fee for the copies. The form can be obtained by contacting Neighborhood Services at 209/937-8813.

Why do new violations show up every couple of weeks on some properties?

- Some properties are more susceptible to ongoing vandalism or problems than others. New violations are cited as they are reported.

What should the realtor do if they need more time to correct violations?

- Contact the code officer who issued the citation and make arrangements for an extension. Their name and phone number are on the citation.

If a realtor asks about violations at a property will it generate an inspection?

- Requests for information do not generate inspections.

Why do violations have to be corrected if the buyer is willing to buy the property "as-is"?

- It depends on the violation. However, we will generally clear the title if the "Buyer" will sign a "Stipulation Agreement" that acknowledges the violations and agrees to the City's conditions to bring them into compliance.
